NOTE: Every pitch thrown is a pitch that is counted. Every pitch thrown that results in a foul ball is counted as a pitch. A pitcher is permitted to finish a batter, but every pitch counts. For example, if a pitcher reaches 50 pitches in the middle of batter, the pitcher can finish that batter, but any additional pitches thrown are counted and the total will take the pitcher above the 50-pitch limit and would require an additional day of rest.

Days Rest: This is a full day of rest. For example, if a pitcher throws 65 pitches on a Monday, then the pitcher is required to have 2 full days of rest. This means the pitcher would need to rest on Tuesday and Wednesday and would not be able to pitch again until Thursday.
