I played baseball up until high school. I've played softball in the Air Force Base the past two years and was an add to Kenton Carnell's tournament team last spring for a tournament. I like to play outfield and 3rd base and I'm a decent bat that can run. Looking to play for fun, so not super worried about division I end up in, but I like good competition so playing in a consistent pace league (above beginner) would be preferred
